

Srisail Reddy Panjugula

303 Rampratap Nivas, Dwarakanagar, Saroornagar Mandal,
Hyderabad – 35. Tel: 903099 7371, 900056 7371.

Srisail is from Inderched village of Basheerabad mandal in Ranga Reddy district of Andhra Pradesh. After working for eights years, as Operations/IT Manager, in the UK Srisail has relocated to India in 2008 and has joined the Telugu Desam Party. He is the Vice President of Telugu Sanketika Nipunula Vibhagam, professional cell of TDP. Also, Srisail is involved in the Party Manifesto matters. He is also the co-ordinator for the Party's Entrepreneurship Development Programme.

Srisail has studied Sociology, Telugu Literature and Public administration in India and did his masters in Business IT Management in the UK, from Manchester Metropolitan University.

Srisail has participated in various movements in India and in the UK including Anti-death sentence campaign (Hyderabad, 1996), Anti-war protest (London, 2003), Make Poverty History (Edinburgh, 2005), Communal harmony campaign - Chak De Hyderabad (Hyderabad, 2007). Srisail is a co-founder of Friends of India - an independent, non-partisan, non-governmental organisation focusing on socio-economic and political issues facing India in general and Andhra Pradesh in particular. He is a member of the Liberal Democrats party in the UK and has visited the European Parliament along with LibDem MEPs. He actively supports Oxfam, Amnesty International and Shared Earth.

An occasional writer and poet, Srisail has bagged an international award for his poem 'Peace'. Srisail is a co-founder of Dasya theatre, which performs Barbareekudu drama. He also co-founded New Syllabus Literature, a publishing house which brought out books such as Nalla Gurrapu Nada, Ek Minar, Gulistan, Apurva Purana Kathalu and The Last Brahmin. Srisail's writings have featured in Vaartha, Andhra Jyothy, Prajatantra and the Manchester Evening News. His writings appear in Telugu dailies regularly. Srisail has been a panelist for several TV programmes debating socio-political issues, both in India and abroad.

Srisail lives in Hyderabad with wife and two children. He enjoys listening to music and loves cooking. Srisail's website is www.srisail.net, and he can be emailed at srisail@gmail.com